AUTOBIOGRAPHY

Heyyyy! My name is Kelly, and I am excited you've found my site! I was raised in Upstate New York with my parents, sister, and grandparents. I attended Niagara University, a small Catholic college and was an active disciple of Christ on campus. During my summers off, I had an awesome job working at a Catholic camp, that would ultimately sow the seed for my passion in ministry. After graduating from Niagara University with honors, I attended Syracuse University and completed my Masters degree in Counseling. I also went to Franciscan University of Steubenville to get my certificate in youth ministry.

I have served as a Youth Minister for the last several years. I do my best to maintain a balance between fun, creative programming and meaningful, in depth catechesis. My hope is to challenge youth to be everything God intended them to be... and go to heaven of course! I'm a huge roller coaster enthusiast and I'm a fan of junior mints, paintball and most everything related to G.K. Chesterton, St. Maria Goretti, St. Theresa of Avila, and St. Philip Neri. If we were able to meet face-to-face, I would suggest blueberry cake donuts and extra hot vanilla lattes on the back porch. I would also suggest we skip the small talk and instead learn to chase grace and choose stillness together!

I look forward to connecting with you! You can follow me on Twitter or Instagram @kellycolangelo

Until then, see you in the Eucharist!
Kelly
